Subject: OR marine water listings for dissolved oxygen

Hi Catherine,

It does not appear that Oregon has any marine water listings for dissolved oxygen. We have just taken a Partial Approval/Partial Disapproval Action on OR's 2012 303(d) list and are out for public comment until February 6, 2017. If any ODEQ staff have data or information that support an impairment listing, please encourage them to submit it to us prior to the close of the comment period. All of our decision documents, as well as comment submittal instructions, can be found at:

Please let me know if you have any other questions. Thanks.

jill
